Cooling Doggie Iced Treats

September usually offers the year's hottest weather in the Bay Area, very warm and dry, with sometimes stagnant air. Anything you do to alleviate your hot dog's heat distress will be welcome, what could be better than chilled delicious iced treats?

Here are a few simple cold treats that should be easy to deliver and appreciated by your pooch. A few ice cubes, used as rewards in doggie toys, plopped in the water bowl, or just used for a game of skittles on the kitchen floor or patio are fun. Chicken broth poured in an ice cube tray is easy, too. How about serving plain old refrigerated dog food from the can, or freezing dog toys? Patty LaCava says that frozen sardines are loved by her dogs.

Here are some recipes you can modify to suit your needs:

Master Recipe Doggie Ice Cream Treats

Ingredients: 2 cups plain, nonfat yogurt
 1 cup creamy peanut butter (without salt, sugar or sweeteners)

Additives of your choice of about one cup or a little more of baby food meat, cooked oatmeal, moistened dog kibble, previously frozen or fresh pureed fruits/veggies/berries, finely chopped or pureed leftover meat, chicken, cooked fish, cheese, 2 tablespoons honey

Cupcake Baking Pan (for 8 or 12) with paper liners, or small cardboard bowls on a tray or cookie sheet.

Place all ingredients in a large bowl and mix well. You can use a spoon, pastry blender, food processor or blender. Room temperature peanut butter blends better. Add water if needed.

Drop spoonfuls into cups until three quarters full. Mixture will swell while freezing. Place tray/pan on shelf of freezer until firm, about 3 hours. Pop from pan and put into a ZipLock bag. It will keep a long time in the freezer.

Here's a variation from the Yahoo food page, using bananas, yogurt, and peanut butter:

Make-It-Yourself PupCream Canine-friendly ice cream

2 ripe bananas

16 ounces plain yogurt (Or low-fat if Fido's on a doggie diet)

½ cup peanut butter (Organic is best - no sugar or salt if possible)

Mix all ingredients in a blender until they reach a smooth consistency.

Pour mix into ice cube trays or cupcake liners. Freeze overnight.

You could probably take anything your dog usually eats, like kibble, soften it in water, whirl it in the blender with something wet or moist, like mashed cooked vegetables or yogurt, and freeze for cold treats. Even plain peanut butter and fresh berries can be mixed and frozen into small treats.

This recipe led to a little discussion on the BASH board two weeks back – the use of yogurt was questioned, and some good information was delivered.

"I used to do this with all kinds of things. My guys favorite was to mix the yogurt with a can of tuna and freeze it in small containers. You can mix the yogurt with almost any fruit and they love it." Diana Wallace

"I use Goat Kiefer, the bacteria in kefir can actually colonize the intestinal tract as opposed to yogurt which has transient beneficial bacteria. Plus goat milk is easier on the stomach. I notice that their poop is smaller when I give them kiefer. They love it." Will the cultures survive freezing? "Yes, they can survive freezing, the bacteria will just go dormant and come back alive once it's back to warm temp. Bacteria cannot survive heat so all those cookie treats made with yogurt will not have beneficial bacteria. I make my own sauerkraut and add a spoon of it to their food as well. Dogs seem to love anything fermented including beer. Heron Ho

"I give my dog a scoop of yogurt nearly every day, when I have some. He LOVES plain it! Haven't had any negative results. Wouldn't give him a whole container though. And steer clear of the yogurts that have the fake sugars in them." Bev Andelora

NOTE TO RANDEE – you can cut the following if you need to :

The following foods may be dangerous to your pet and should not be used:
Alcoholic beverages, coffee (beans, espresso, grounds, liquid), tea leaves/liquid. Caffeine stimulants like Red Bull

Salt, Raw yeast dough, Xylitol (artificial sweetener in MANY foods/candies that is toxic to pets), excessive sugar

Chocolate, cocoa of any kind, Candies, Gum (causes blockages and may have xylitol in it)

Apple seeds, Apricot pits, Cherry pits, Mustard seeds, Peach pits, Potato leaves and stems and sprouted eyes (green parts), tomato leaves and stems (green parts), Rhubarb leaves

Avocados, Garlic, Onions, Onion or Garlic powder, Grapes, Raisins, Mushroom Plants, Walnuts, Macadamia nuts

Rescue August 2015

Randee McQueen 408-371-1841 bashrr@com-ctl.com
Neutered Male, 4 years old, Housetrained, Crate Trained, Lead Trained, rides well in car, good with Children, good with Large Dogs, has Rabies vaccinations, has DHLPP vaccinations, on Heartworm preventative, microchipped. Is learning sit and down.

Beautiful face, expressive blue eyes, a classic black and white coat with some soft freckling on his snout, he is one very handsome boy with a gentle spirit. Long legged and slim, quick and agile, he's putting on a little weight, but needs a few more pounds.

Ricky has the potential to be a wonderful Siberian companion. Sensitive, sweet, responsive and attentive to his handler, he seems to be most comfortable and trusting with women, soft spoken men. Loves attention, ear tousling, patting, training with treats, but quick to dart away if he detects conflict or correction coming. Gentle mouth, quiet. Some hesitation coming through doors or clipping up with to a leash. Once on the leash, he is light and easier handle than larger sibs.

Ricky was an owner surrender to the San Jose Shelter. They had too many dogs at their home. We know he lived with 4 other Siberians. Ricky is not a digger. He is young, very curious, quick to slip out to explore the world, and can be mischievous, but he has done well in our house and small fenced yard with long daily walks. A settled environment, steady companionship, interactive time with people or dogs, and a regular diet will be good for him.

He is a neutered Male, 4 years old, Housetrained, Crate Trained, Lead Trained, good with Children, good with Large Dogs, has Rabies vaccinations, has DHLPP vaccinations, on Heartworm preventative, microchipped.

Wylie is now in a foster home in Pleasanton. We can make arrangements for him to be seen during the week. He is a very nice boy, rides well in the car and is fine with dog that do not attempt to dominate him. He is a little possessive of toys. He is not a fighter but won't back down either.....so if you are interested in him and have another dog, plan on bringing your other dog to introduce them. Give us a few days to learn more about him now he is in a foster home.

He is a neutered Male, 1 years 9 months old, good with Large Dogs, has Rabies vaccinations, has DHLPP vaccinations, microchipped.
