Homemade Cheeseburger Dog Treats for Father's Day

By: Chewy Editorial | Updated: January 20, 2021

Be the dog dad of the year and serve your pup up some delicious DIY dog treats. These Father's Day-themed dog biscuits are crafted into mini-cheeseburgers in celebration of grill-loving dog dads everywhere. Give your pup the taste of a backyard BBQ, and he'll never forget who his favorite pet parent is. Made with the squeezable KONG Bacon & Cheese Flavor Easy Treat and Rachael Ray Burger Bites, it's as close as your pet can get to a true Father's Day cookout. Let your pup in on the Father's Day festivities with these nutritious and delicious homemade dog treats.

Ingredients

- 1 jar of Whisk & Wag Cheddar & Herb dog treat mix
- 1/2 cup and 1 tbsp. water
- 1/8 cup melted Petpost! coconut oil
- 10 Rachael Ray Nutrish Grain-Free Burger Bites dog treats
- 1 tube KONG Stuff'N Easy Treat Bacon & Cheese Flavor
- Generous sprinkle of organic chia seeds
- 1 egg

Supplies

- Large mixing bowl
- Small mixing bowl
- Parchment paper
- Spoon
- Sheet pan

Preparation time: 10 minutes

Baking time: 25 minutes

Total time: 35 minutes

Yield: 10 burger dog biscuits

Steps

1. Preheat oven to 350°F.
2. In a large bowl, add the entire jar of Whisk & Wag mix, plus water and coconut oil. Combine until a firm dough forms.
3. Separate the mixture into 20 teaspoon-sized balls. Flatten the balls to 1/8-inch thick to form the buns.
4. Crack an egg into a small mixing bowl and add 1 tbsp. of water. Whisk until blended to create an egg wash.
5. Use your finger to coat the top of 10 of the buns. Generously sprinkle chia seeds on top.
6. Place your homemade dog treats onto a baking sheet lined with parchment paper, chia side up, spacing them 1/2 inch apart.
7. Bake for 25 minutes.
8. Allow to cool for 10 minutes.
9. Flip over the tops of the buns and spray a dime-sized portion of KONG Easy Treat onto every bun top and bottom.
10. Gently press Rachael Ray Burger Bites dog treats onto the bun bottoms.
11. Add the bun tops, and serve one DIY dog treat to your beloved fur child!

Facebook

I have never been a big person on all of the social media things...they change so much and so much to keep up with when you have to work and do other things. In the past year I have began to use Facebook for rescue at both the local and national level. I have found that used wisely it is invaluable for rescue.

Almost 2 months ago there was an 8 year old Siberian at the San Jose Shelter. We had no place to put him. We could board him but was that fair? Not knowing which if any foster home would take on an older dog. I posted to facebook and had a number of people interested in him. I said we would help place, we just didn't have a foster home. You have to be a member of BASH to foster..... A wonderful lady said she would take him. I picked him up the next day and took Lobo to her. He was older and overweight...but very nice. She has since decided he has fit in well and she is going to keep him.

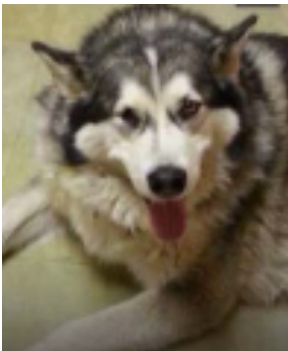

Two weeks ago Norsled and BASH were contacted about a dog that had a horrible wound on his side at the Sacramento Shelter. Neither of us as individual groups could do much but together we did. It ended up the dog had had acid thrown on his side. With a few facebook posts, sharing etc... Norsled was able to raise over $8,000 which paid for the surgeries to close his side. He is now recovering and will soon be available for adoption.

Yesterday I reposted an older dog that needed a place to go. Had to try but didn't know if it would help and it did. Three people were interested in fostering this old girl who's owner had died. All from various people sharing the post.

Why do I write about this. It is important for all that work with rescues, support rescues etc....to share what you see about our rescues with others. It is amazing what that one share will bring to a dog that needs a foster home or a new forever home. A click of the entry and it can go around the world. We try not to put out everything, but those that have a special place in our hearts....and it is working..

So please friend BASH and BASHRR on Facebook and when you see one of the heart tugging posts, share it.

Dede is a retired show dog looking for a home where someone would just like a dog to hang with, take for walks around the neighborhood and be a companion in your home. Dede is crateDetraimed and leash trained. My experience is that these dogs have been in hotel rooms enough that they are housetrained or will be quickly in a new home. She has been with small children and has done great. She has also been with dogs as small as Chi and as large as Mastiffs. She is very friendly and fun to be with.

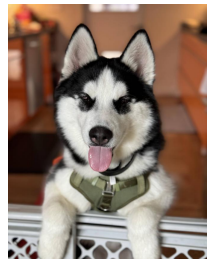

Sprit is a retired show dog looking for a home just to hang out at, go for walks and be a good companion. He is crate trained and my experience is that they have been in and out of hotel rooms that they are 90% housetrained as long as both of you figure out the signal to go out. He is great with other dogs both Extra large and small dogs. He has been around children as young as 2 years old and done great.

Star is a gorgeous girl with brains and energy to match! She was born blind, but that doesn't slow her down at all. She navigates just fine, and all the important things in life (food, sniffy walks, scratches) don't require sight. Star also had a couple of seizures, which the vet is calling idiopathic epilepsy since no other cause was found in testing, so she takes Keppra and that has prevented any more episodes. Star is a smart and happy dog with typical Husky energy. She *loves* meeting new people and dogs, and would do great in a home with other like-minded dogs. Her energy right now is too much for small or older dogs, cats, or small children.

Pets In Need Palo Alto 650-496-5971 msuarez@petsinneed.org

Meet Matteo, a charming 3-year-old male Siberian Husky ready to steal your heart. He is a family dog in training, very jumpy and full of energy, but with heaps of potential. While he may get easily excited, especially when it's playtime with his beloved ball, he needs to continue developing his manners, particularly on walks. With his endearing personality and boundless energy, Matteo is sure to bring joy and laughter to his forever home. Matteo was surrendered to Pets In Need when their owner could no longer care for them. He has a training scholarship for two free private training sessions. Matteo is at our PIN Palo Alto Location open Sun.-Fri. 12:30pm-6pm & Sat. 10am-6pm

Meet Azul, a charming fella ready to light up your life! At four years old, Azul brings a blend of intelligence, social grace, and boundless affection to any home. This sweetheart thrives on interaction and loves to be in the company of others. Azul enjoys playtime and needs ample space to explore and roam freely. Confined spaces just aren't Azul's style; this pup craves the freedom to stretch those legs and let loose. But fear not, Azul is not just about fun and games; they're also quite the scholar, already mastering commands like sit, down, and paw. If you're seeking a loyal companion with a zest for life, look no further than Azul! Azul is available for adoptions at our Pets In Need location in Palo Alto

Meet Precious, a charming 1-year-old husky mix ready to steal your heart with her sweet nature. Precious is currently undergoing ongoing training to enhance her skills and manners. Her excitement and appreciation for making new friends shines through. As part of her learning journey, Precious is mastering the art of not jumping, and our dedicated staff is actively involved in teaching her new commands and facilitating positive social experiences. With your love and support, Precious is sure to blossom into an even more delightful companion. Precious was surrendered to Pets In Need when their owner could no longer care for them. Precious comes with a training scholarship that accounts for two free private training sessions with her trainer, to help her transition to your home and transfer her training into her new environment. She is currently in a foster home practicing all these good behaviors. Please contact our Palo Alto staff at adoptionspa@petsinneed.org if you are interested in meeting her.
